THE GREAT INVITATION:
Learning to Live a Life of Prayer

Few things can create as much as anxiety among followers of Jesus as prayer. We feel guilt, we feel confusion, and we feel like there's something more. This class is meant for any and all to come and take another step in their life of prayer. We'll learn about how to build prayer into our daily lives, how to develop a conversational relationship with God, and how to discern what the Spirit is telling us and where He's leading us.

ADAM WHITSCARVER is the executive director of Chattanooga House of Prayer, a local ministry that exists to help churches and individuals grow in their lives of prayer. He lives in Chickamauga, GA and is a member of Hope Fellowship (EPC).

SPEAKING A MYSTERY:
Male and Female in God's Image

These are confusing times when it comes to speaking about what it means to be a man and a woman. There are controversies about bathrooms, about gender dysphoria, about hormone therapy and transitioning, and more. We want some clarity, and we believe that there's an answer to be found in the Scriptures.

But the church can appear to be just as confused as the world around us, alternately saying too much (and pushing people into a vision of masculinity or femininity that doesn't fit and isn't biblical) or too little (remaining silent for fear of offending). In this class, we'll talk together about the Bible's vision of man and woman and trace God's good intentions for us to live into His glorious vision of masculinity and femininity.

ANDY CORNETT, TOMMY HAYSLETT, BETH ROWLETT, & JOEY SHERRARD were all a part of a discussion group on these issues as a part of the Stott Award grant that Signal Pres received. They've still got a lot to learn, but they're excited to share what they've discovered thus far.

THE GREAT PHYSICIAN:
Thinking Faithfully About Medicine & Health

For those called to work in health care and for those who have had to navigate the health care system themselves or for loved ones, modern medicine is a wonderful and confusing field. There are amazing advancements that help preserve life, and there are also new ethical dilemmas that we feel ill equipped to face. This class represents an opportunity for care givers and care receivers to gather together to hear guidance and wisdom about how Christians can think faithfully in these wonderful and challenging times.

DR. BILL DAVIS is professor of philosophy at Covenant College. As a medical ethicist, he has worked with ethics boards at hospitals and speaks frequently about medical ethics and end of life care.
