

Prayers for All Seasons: Living with the Psalms

In the pages of our Bibles we can find a companion for every season of life. Whether we are at the peaks or in the valley, whether we are looking out with wonder at the world around us or looking within ourselves to try to discern the motions of our hearts, we can find words that will give a name to the place where we find ourselves.

In this class we'll take a look at how the Psalms provide a blueprint for the life of prayer and for faithfulness in the world. Where we are disoriented, we can be reoriented to the God who is never surprised. Where we are speechless, we can find speech that can capture the motions of our heart. Join as we find in the Psalms are faithful guide and companion.

Creation Regained: A Conversation about Land, Food & Faith

The landscape of conversation surrounding food, faith and environment is often littered with alienation, isolation and controversy. No matter what the topic, it always seems to be supercharged by social media, politics and individual passion.

But what does the Bible actually say about these things if it says anything at all? And, if it does speak to us regarding creation and our relationship to it, does it (or can it rather) even apply to us today?

Same Lake, Different Boat:
Coming Alongside People Touched by Disability

Quarter 1 & 2

When the church attempts to function without all of its parts, the body of Christ becomes disabled. Same Lake Different Boat is a transformational work—designed to renew our minds to think biblically about disability in order that our lives, our relationships, and our congregations might wholly reflect Christ.

This study will encourage and support family caregivers. It will cast a vision for church leadership to follow Christ's example of interaction with caregivers and those with disabilities. It will also build up and equip lay leaders within the church to more effectively reach those inside the church and within the community. As the various groups come together, conversations are facilitated that might never have started otherwise!

This study will use the book Same Lake, Different Boat by Stephanie Hubach and will take place during Equip Quarters 1 & 2. Books will be available for purchase for $10.
