Proverbs: The Way of Wisdom

We find ourselves in increasingly complex times. In our neighborhoods, in our workplaces, in our families, and in our world there are new realities we're trying to navigate and new decisions that confront us every day. While what's right and what's wrong has never changed, it can be hard to understand how to live well. How do I steward well my finances in uncertain times? How can I speak with both truth and grace when everything seems controversial? How do I live well in the broken relationships that I have? Scripture's answer to these questions is wisdom. And the central place those who long for wisdom go to in their Bibles is the book of Proverbs. Over eleven weeks this Fall, both our women and our men will be studying the book of Proverbs. On Thursday mornings for women and on Monday mornings for men, we will walk through the book of Proverbs. Taught by a team of lay leaders, staff, and pastors, we'll look at the very practical counsel Scripture gives us so that we can become wise in a world of foolishness. Material is $20, and $25 if you sign up as a couple.
